Contents:

1. Left Relocation Bracket (1)
2. Right Relocation Bracket (1)
3. Filler Plate (2)
4. Shim (2)

1. Using a #40 torx head bit or socket, unscrew the torx head bolt located under the head of the mirror. Do not discard this bolt, as it will be used later for reassembly. Remove the mirror head.

NOTE: Some force may be needed to remove the mirror head from the bracket.

Carefully work the mirror head from side to side until it is free.

2. Open the front door and lower the window. Working through the window, use a #40 torx to remove the 2 bolts located on the inside in front of the door panel. Hold the mirror bracket to keep it from falling and damaging the door or paint. Do not discard these bolts, as they will be used later for reassembly.

3. Remove the front 2 torx head bolts from the windshield retainer bracket. Do not discard these bolts, as they will be used later for reassembly.

4. Install the mirror relocation bracket using the bolts removed in step 3. Alternate between the upper and lower bolts while tightening. Adjust the bracket as you tighten to properly align it to the top of the fender and door line.

5. Install the door filler plate using the bolts removed in step 2, again working through the open window. The longer mounting boss gets installed in the lower hole and the shorter boss in the upper hole. Alternate between the upper and lower bolts while tightening.

6. Due to production changes made in late 2008, on newer Wranglers it is required that the plastic shim be used when installing the mirror head into the mirror relocation bracket. This is to account for the smaller shaft diameter on these later model mirrors. If your mirrors fit snugly into the Relocation Brackets then the shims can be discarded.

7. Insert the mirror into the new relocation bracket as shown. Start the torx head bolt that was removed in step 1. Tighten the bolt so that the mirror is snug but still movable inside of the mirror relocation bracket. Open the door and adjust the mirror parallel to the door. After the mirror has been repositioned, tighten the bolt until the breakaway feature works.

NOTE: DO NOT OVERTIGHTEN! The mirror head base is made of aluminum and can easily be stripped.
